

Online learning

Options

- Affordable education
- Learn at your pace
- Several course levels

Interested in Online learning?

What does Jotron offer?

All online courses are created with responsive design making them easy to use on any platform. You can choose from: basic 1, basic 2, administration, technical and certification courses. This is time-efficient learning. You have the potential to refresh your current skill set or an opportunity to build or gain more product knowledge. Online packages are also available, you can combine different courses to meet the needs of exactly what you want to learn. Online learning offers consistent and standardized education.

Advantages?

- You decide when and where you want to take the course.
- Any course can be completed in several stages, you can stop and start as you like.
- Keeps you up to date with product information and functionality.
- Another way to stay connected with new product developments.

Requirements to participate?

- Assigned the course by your administrator
- Reliable internet access
- A headset is suggested

Good to know

Once purchased the contents of the course is available for one to two years, depending on the course type. As part of the course materials, a user manual and navigational help functionality are available. Keeping individuals knowledgeable aids with employee personal development and can improve company retention.

v. 1 Jotron AS reserves the right to change any content herein without notice

How does it work?

When you purchase a course an administrator is assigned. Administrator rights are granted to only one user. The administrator must grant access to each individual course participant per course. Each course is designed to be reviewed and completed from start to finish, to ensure that you get the most out of all the topics. Every course contains quizzes and a final exam. Certification courses also include a certificate when the criteria for certification is met. Andrew will guide you throughout the course materials.

Flexibility

- If you wish to take more than one course it is possible to set up an educational plan including several courses.
- Several employees can be educated within the same purchase.
- Customization of course materials is available upon request.