How does it work?

When you purchase a course, an administrator is assigned. Administrator rights are granted to only one user, who must then grant access to each course participant individually.

Each course is designed to be completed from start to finish, ensuring comprehensive coverage of all topics.

Every course includes quizzes and a final exam, while certification courses also provide a certificate upon meeting the certification criteria.

Our online learners will guide you throughout the course materials

Flexibility

- If you wish to take more than one course, it is possible to set up an educational plan including several courses
- Several employees can be educated within the same purchase
- Customization of course materials is available upon request
